The clinic that kept running

Hugh Riordan opened a clinic in Wichita in 1975 so functioning — not only a named ill — could be measured and fed. Ron Hunninghake joined that house in 1988. When Hugh died in 2005, the lab and the vein did not close. That is this layer: a living clinic after the founder.

Gonzalez consulted that house. RECNAC II in Puerto Rico took the research name from Riordan’s RECNAC. Hunninghake’s job was not to invent the vein. It was to keep the chair and the numbers in the same building.

A house is not the Program

His layer	Not this page
A clinic that kept measuring and feeding.	A Foundation clinic. A Wichita franchise.
The vein kept under a roof with a lab.	A bag we sell. A protocol we print.
Continuity after the founder.	A sixth public pillar named Riordan.
Correction remains the how — #52.	A reason to skip the hospital next door.

What the layer taught

A principle dies when the only person who held it dies — unless someone keeps the chair. That is not a brand. That is stewardship. The house is theirs. Our public day is still the five. Our how is still Correction.

How you keep it

Keep Eat. Keep Layer 0 as the day. If a question is a bag or a panel in your own body, take it to someone licensed who knows you. Thomas E. Levy is next — the vein taken to a reader who may never meet Wichita.

Be brave enough to honor a house without moving into it

You are not behind if you never flew to Kansas. You are not too late. Your mills are still minting every second of every day. Feed them. The clinic is a layer. It is not Tuesday.

The question

Will you honor the clinic that kept the lab — and still keep the five as the day? The answer is yours. You can take it. You can leave it. No one can take it for you.

If you take it, eat tonight. That is Hunninghake, kept as stewardship — not as a ticket to Wichita.

If you want to keep learning, keep flowing with our Currents. Thomas E. Levy is next.

Notes

- This is education. It does not diagnose, treat, or claim to cure.

- It does not replace your physician, your medications, or the care you already have.
- If a question is about your own body or intravenous ascorbate, take it to a licensed professional who knows that vein. G6PD deficiency and significant kidney insufficiency are hard stops.
- The Foundation does not sell IVs, lab panels, or a Riordan visit. It does not co-brand the Wichita clinic. Current #56 (Hugh Riordan) is still unwritten if you want the founder's layer filled in order.
