Courage from a cardiology chair

Peter A. McCullough is a cardiologist. He took a public stand apart from the Medical Industrial Complex — the same ship named in Currents #41–#49. Joseph Ladapo did that from a state chair. McCullough did it from a clinic chair. That is courage. It is not a protocol. It is not a shot debate as this Current.

The paddle stays yours. The helper you hired stays in the chair. Do not stop a medicine because a brave man got loud.

A stand is not a stack

His layer	Not this page
A cardiologist who would not row for the ship.	A Foundation early-treatment stack.
Courage named. The five still the day.	A shot debate as the Current.
Same posture as Ladapo — #72.	A reason to fire the cardiologist.
Correction remains the how — #52.	A co-brand. A subscription protocol.

What the layer taught

A chair can be brave and still not be your mill. Persistent antigen was weather at #37 — not a sixth pillar. Ellen Brown is next. She kept saying food is health.

How you keep it

Keep Eat. Keep the copilot. If a question is your own heart or a public-health rule in your life, take it to someone licensed who knows you. Do not copy a press conference onto the kitchen counter.

Be brave enough to honor a stand without becoming the protocol

You are not behind if you never watched the hearing. You are not too late. Your mills are still minting every second of every day. Feed them. A brave chair is weather. It is not Tuesday.

The question

Will you honor courage from a cardiology chair — and still keep the paddle and the helper? The answer is yours. You can take it. You can leave it. No one can take it for you.

If you take it, eat tonight. That is McCullough, kept as courage — not as a stack.

If you want to keep learning, keep flowing with our Currents. Ellen Brown is next.

Notes

- This is education. It does not diagnose, treat, or claim to prevent or cure infection, myocarditis, or any named ill.

- It does not replace your physician, cardiologist, medications, or the care you already have. Do not stop, skip, or refuse licensed care from this page.
- This page is not a vaccinate-or-refuse instruction and not an early-treatment protocol. If a question is about a shot or a drug list, take it to a licensed professional who knows you.
- The Foundation does not co-brand The McCullough Foundation, Courageous Discourse, or any protocol product. Public language stays Metabolic Correction.
