A physician who kept the person in the chair

Jessica Laine Peatross is a physician. She named sick-care as a model that invoices the break and still sat with the person in the chair. Revolving door. Mill. Terrain weather. Food first. Move and a stop. Those rhymes are real. They are not a merger. Her map stays hers. The five stay the day.

Courage against a charter is not a reason to fire the next physician. Michael’s frame is a gift beside hers — not a correction of her.

Honor is not a co-brand

Her layer	Not this page
A physician who kept the person in the chair.	A Foundation clinic we open.
Sick-care named. The mill still the mill.	KBS as our syllabus. A dose table.
Win-win. Two maps. One body.	A board retry. A reader forced to choose.
Correction remains the how — #52.	A sixth pillar named Dr. Jess.

The decade in one breath

A state that opened the river. A Surgeon General who would not row for the ship. A mill under load. A mill performing. A bench that kept the tumor-fuel question honest. A brain as weather. A shop that asked the human to keep generating. Courage from a cardiology chair. A voice that kept saying food is health. A physician who kept the person in the chair.

How you keep it

Keep the five. Keep the helper. If a question is your own body, sit in the chair as a partner. Do not make this page a clinic directory.

Be brave enough to thank her without becoming her student or her judge

You are not behind if you never heard KBS. You are not too late. Your mills are still minting every second of every day. Feed them. This decade is closed. Tuesday is still the five.

The question

Will you honor a physician who kept the person in the chair — and still keep the five as the day? The answer is yours. You can take it. You can leave it. No one can take it for you.

If you take it, eat tonight. That is Peatross, kept as honor — not as a merger and not as a verdict.

If you want to keep learning, keep flowing with our Currents. Decade 71–80 is closed.

Notes

- This is education. It does not diagnose, treat, or claim to cure. It does not reprint a Know Your Body Systems syllabus.
- It does not replace your physician, your medications, or the care you already have.
- If a question is about your own body, take it to a licensed professional who knows you.
- The Foundation does not co-brand Dr. Jess, KBS, or Transform. It does not retry a Board Decision. Two maps can sit side by side. Public language stays Metabolic Correction. Decade 71–80 is closed.
